CORRECTING THE CLASS WARFARE LIES WHICH PERPETUATE HOMELESSNESS

Photo: Greta Thunberg is not only a spokesperson for climate change and brilliant children, but also Asperger's Syndrome. We plan an article on the truth about Asperger's, written by our Editor who grew up with this curse of excessive intelligence. In This Issue: News Media News and Other News, Meetings, Snide Comments.

Great News! We found housing for you! Would you like to live in New Orleans, or Boston? You want Phoenix? No, too close to San Diego. How about Chicago?

When practical to post an advanced preview, view this newspaper becoming assembled at NZ9F.com/SDHNpreview. There is also a Media List if a "Proposed" Edition is issued, and you can get onto that e-mail list and comment before or after publication at nz9f@hotmail.com, or on Facebook at facebook.com/San-Diego-Homeless-News-1477984309115791/. Publication Dates:

We rarely have an edition in June, always have one in July, rarely have one in August, and now it is September. I am wondering if we get this out by the end of the month. Better to be slow and great, than rush to meet a deadline.

News Media News and Other News

The most important article is a series on prison deaths called "Dying Behind Bars", a 3-part mini-book in Sunday editions of the SD Union-Tribune, by Jeff McDonald, Kelly Davis, and Lauryn Schroeder. Impossible to link.

San Diego CityBeat is now under a new owner and Publisher, Steve Strickbine, of Times Publications, Tempe, Arizona. This group is not affiliated with the New York Times, the Los Angeles Times, the Chicago Sun-Times, nor any other daily newspaper with the word "Times" in it. CityBeat started in San Diego about 17 years ago, when Kelly Davis and David Rolland were sent from Ventura to establish a newspaper here. Rolland served as its first Editor, eventually leaving to join the staff of State Representative Toni Atkins, who was Chair of the State Assembly and is now Chair of the State Senate. Rollins and I never saw eye-to-eye, but I got much better treatment from CityBeat's other two Editors, Ron Donaho and current (until recently) Editor Seth Combs. Combs has actually won my "Best Editorial" category more than once. And, CityBeat has frequently contained San Diego's best editorials across all news media.

I cover editorials because I have 56 years as an Editor, and wrote editorials for the nation's dailies as a ghost writer throughout the 1970's. In his initial hello article, Strickbine cites financial difficulties as CityBeat's need to change ownership, and I've known that for a long time but it served no positive purpose to mention it. Thank you for rescuing CityBeat, and if I can be of help, let me know. The former Publisher of CityBeat, Kevin Hellman, wrote years ago that he wanted no contact with the San Diego Homeless News. I have covered CityBeat in my News Media News articles for over ten years, and before that for Yahoo! News.

More recently, CityBeat has apparently eliminated both Seth Combs ("Up Front, From the Editor") and Aaryn Belfer ("Backwards and In High Heels") from its lineup of contributors. They still have the political editorials of John R. Lamb ("Spin Cycle") and the cartoons of Tom Tomorrow ("This Modern World"). The rest, of course, just doesn't matter. Lamb is being as political as ever.

In its edition Sept. 18, there is a renewed "Letters Wanted" insert, and a letter published objecting to the Chula Vista Library's program having men in drag read stories to children. San Diego has one of the largest populations of gays and lesbians in the United States, so even a Flaming-heterosexual Editor like myself has no objection with this. You can comment to the new publisher at Steve@timespublications.com. The best comment was by Neal Obermeyer, next article.

Neal Obermeyer, of San Diego Reader, who is one of their cartoonists, summed it up in a cartoon Sept. 12, "Carving Up What's Left of Local Media", where a news editor determines that the paper can save money by eliminating the content that readers read. That, of course, would be Seth Combs and Aaryn Belfer, right? He doesn't mention CityBeat, but the news plan contains the word Beat in bold type. Best cartoon in recent memory. In a class with the legendary Steve Breen of the U-T. Sorry, not possible to post link.

Stop the Presses! Have any of you in the news media ever had to give that order? I have. Not only is New CityBeat eliminating Combs and Belfer, its two finest assets, but now it is getting rid of Ryan Bradford ("Well That Was Awkward"), too. Bradford is the Web Editor, which makes me wonder if the new management is going anywhere, because that had to be the most profitable part of CityBeat. Ryan can be contacted at ryanraigbradford@gmail.com. He wrote about the sale of CityBeat in Voice of San Diego, and has a new podcast. John R. Lamb has an excellent editorial in the Sept. 25 edition.

John Kitchin, NZ9F, Editor-Publisher, San Diego Homeless News. Yes, I am San Diego's Senior Editor in today's jumble of Nonsense News Media.

Sidewalk Life is Legal: The lawsuit which gives all Western States homeless the right to live on the sidewalk is called Martin vs. Boise Idaho, which also makes it unlawful to ticket homeless. This is for your lawyer. The City of San Diego also has a Court Order from a previous lawsuit that it must allow all homeless to sleep on all City property from 9 PM to 5:30 AM, which applies ONLY to the City (not County) of San Diego. This was since modified to be 9 PM to 6 AM, and exclude Downtown San Diego, which includes East Village. The City rarely obeys laws nor court orders when it comes to the homeless, however.

Vivian Moreno voted with the Republicans on the San Diego City Council, on a bill that would require real estate developers to pay more money towards the problems of homelessness that they cause. The bill passed, but Mayor Kevin Faulconer, a Republican, then vetoed that bill. It would take help from Moreno to override that veto. It is a moot point, though, because developers would still only be liable to pay 20% of the homelessness damages they cause, instead of the current 10%. Moreno said that additional fees that developers have to pay would result in fewer homes being built, and we are currently in a housing shortage. If you check our archives, I predicted that either Moreno or Georgette Gomez would become "Republicanized" and vote with the Republicans. In the State Legislature we actually have Republicans running as Democrats. In San Diego, that only happens on the County Board.

Stellar article by Matt Potter, San Diego Reader, August 8, City Lights, Under the Radar Section, "Mara's Marred Morgan Dene Money", implicating City Attorney Mara Elliot as receiving real estate developer money from the backers of Mayor Kevin Faulconer. This sort of Conflict of Interests is how San Diego got to have so many homeless. The article continues to cite major violations of the Brown Act, which is a criminal law, regarding Soccer City and Qualcomm ("Hostess Twinkies") stadium. The lack of transparency, if true, and if deemed a criminal violation, would imply that Organized Crime (a group which commits criminal acts routinely) runs our city.

When I worked as a Police Chief, in the 1970's, I became aware that if you're looking for gangsters, look at the City Attorney, District Attorney, Mayor, and the owners (not Editors) of the news media. The Italian Godfather? Nope. You're watching too much television. Organized Crime is run by the Freemasons, which are controlled by the Bar Association and the Latter-Day Saints. The Italians are just scapegoats, a group of businessmen who form a class act. You're supposed to listen to the TV news, and blame the Italians for everything. Then, you will never know what is really going on. Make America Stupid Again.

Homeless Parking: Gary Warth has a great article in the San Diego Union-Tribune August 24, front page of Local (B-1) "Citation Forgiveness For Homeless Widens", about the Homeless Court. The program is called Clean Plates, and erases past parking citations, avoiding parked cars from being towed. If you get ticketed for sleeping in your car or RV, this program can get tickets erased.

Warth also writes about "Recovering Addicts Speak to Homeless", Sept. 3, Page B-1, about a program designed to reduce dope usage. San Diego, however, fights its homeless via having no toilets, no showers, no trash receptacles, and continuous harassment they call "outreach". These things, and tough new parking restrictions for living in vehicles, has led to a lot more suicides, plus an increase in drug and alcohol use, and also mental illness, so a program trying to deal with these things is probably in order. Being extremely mean to the homeless, requiring that they be locked up in a Concentration Camp that functions as a jail, such as Father Joe's Villages, has resulted in hundreds of suicides, rampant alcoholism, and booming narcotics sales.

The real estate cartels have been changing San Diego into a copy of Los Angeles' Skid Row. They are now beginning to succeed in making the situation here as desperate as there. This drug treatment plan has the slogan, "Are you done?" Our official response is, "No, most of us are still alive." The city won't quit harassing us until we are dead, and it is the policies of the city and county that cause our lives to be not livable. This has not changed the past 30 years, but now that ALL the cheap housing has been torn down, quintupling San Diego rent prices, where can the Mormon-Freemason Mafia real estate cartel go from here? Every year hundreds die just from being homeless.

Voice of San Diego has an ad on Google calling it San Diego Homeless News. I suppose that is a category as opposed to a title, but I keep getting calls for Voice of San Diego, saying things like, "You're that group of homeless people who puts out Voice of San Diego podcasts, right?" Nope. We respect Voice of San Diego as a legitimate and unusually-accurate news organization, but do not confuse them with San Diego Homeless News. We are the homeless newspaper people, they are the podcast people, okay? They do usually have a good selection of on-line news articles, too, and so do we.

Staying with Voice of San Diego, their on-line news site has two excellent articles of note at this time:

Adriana Heldiz writes in the Voice of San Diego August 29, 2019, about how the downtown San Diego library is also a refuge for the homeless. And, Megan Wood writes August 20 a column called "...your questions answered", a rare super-truthful story about the homeless problem. The only thing I disagree with is that Utah was one place which greatly decreased its number of homeless. Nope. They cooked the books, also taking advantage of a definitions-change of the HUD term "Chronic Homeless". We covered that.

Hello, Wall Street Journal? Economics:

New Mayor? New President? Either one is going to be blamed for the current and upcoming Second Great Depression that started in February of 2006, made me homeless via the failure of my small business in November 2007, crashed the Stock Market in 2008, and crashed Real Estate in 2009. From that point, banks were rescued but not homeowners, and major corporations were rescued, but not small businesses. Further government economic stimulation from 2009 to 2019 resulted in the Leading Economic Indicators booming, but all of the money went to the nation's wealthiest 3,000 people. If you are a Democratic candidate for President, be thankful if you do not get nominated. Trump will win, of course, because of a recent deal with Russia that they will fix the election (again) and in return he will give them a big slice of our military technology. Can you say Capital Treason? He is innocent until proven guilty, but since he runs the Justice Department, Defense Department, and even the CIA, will the truth ever be told?

Supposedly the State of California is now giving EBT-Food money to SSI recipients. Up until now, they have been blocked from getting such money, known as Cal-Fresh. No word on whether that reduces cash "California High-Cost" additional money to homeless individuals. Toni Atkins sponsored this bill, and we think maybe her conscience bothers her about the role she had in making so many homeless in San Diego. Her wife is Jennifer LeSar of Lesar Development. They have been sending a representative to some of the homeless meetings, so maybe things will get better after 30 years of continually getting worse. Oh, we at this newspaper pioneered the phrases "his husband" and "her wife". You're welcome. I'm not gay but many of my friends have been, lifetime.

Gary Warth, San Diego Union-Tribune, writes "Church's Shelter Future Uncertain", Sept. 10, about a Christian church operating many services not permitted by the City. In the past few months, 5 different churches were said to have taken part in Hate Speech against gays and lesbians, illegal homeless shelters that abuse homeless, and even one church engaging in Racism. I recall one church last year offering help to Black homeless people at the Ocean Beach pier, Black people only, and they took them to Southeast San Diego, the Black area of San Diego, giving them one night's lodging, free. In the morning, however, these Black people were not taken back to Ocean Beach. Urban Renewal? No, Urban Removal. Repression. The church known as God's Extended Hands (the homeless call it God's Extended Finger) had to shut down its East Village homeless area ("The Bottoms") shelter a few months back too. A Black Baptist church, they have been providing meals for many years near 17th and Island Avenue. Lots of complaints about their food being way too "holy" (Eucharistic).

One other local church, per NBC News, was recently indicted for 12 counts of Slavery, forced labor, and they supposedly used the money from that slavery to help the poor and homeless, but forced them to panhandle for money 12 hours a day. They were a fake church in Chula Vista called Imperial Valley Ministry.

Our take is that churches should be prohibited from dealing with homeless people because they cause so much mental damage and so many suicides, as well as drug and alcohol abuse, all resulting from feeding poor people so much human blood and semen in the "free" food they give away. These churches spread despair in their demeaning of the homeless as "sinners". I have personally lost half a dozen friends because they joined a church and then took their own lives. We do not advocate the use of violence against churches, but to some extent we understand why some people are upset with them. For all the good they do, churches do even more harm than good, and the news media usually shuts up about that. Shame on all of us.

How do we shut down missionary churches who brainwash, hypnotize, deceive, and psychologically damage people, under the guise of providing help? How do we stop the indirect murder of our youth and homeless by religious groups who insist it is their right? There must be a better way to go, other than burning churches and shooting people, and I call upon everyone to help find a better solution.

Most Rev. John Kitchin, NZ9F, Atheist-Pagan Bishop

Sheep, goats, cats, and assholes who cause suicides by pumping heads full of Jesus-bullshit while molesting your children. The Blabby Church of the Fake Gospels and their cartoon-hero Jesus Christ want to have their Pastor Buttfart fart out a sermon at you. Hold your nose, because here it comes!

Three other churches made the news regarding the manipulative, negative, shocking, and anti-society things that many churches do. We support churches that do not get involved in being anti-Civil Rights, anti-Reproductive Rights, anti-gay and lesbian, and bible-thumping, while trying to brainwash people.

On the Mayoral Race: There are 3 candidates for Mayor of San Diego, so far. Barbara Bry is currently on the City Council, representing La Jolla. We tentatively endorsed her earlier, because she Recused herself (declared a personal interest and abstained from voting) on a real estate issue. That takes honesty, and that is very rare in a politician. She is not our pick for Mayor anymore, because of two things: First, she has sounded the alarm regarding increased population density. Well, does that mean the homeless problem can never go away? Gentrification caused real estate to go up 700%, but that automatically brings high density along with it. Example: New York City. The other thing about Bry that concerns us is her lack of knowledge about the homeless situation. She seems to think that all San Diego needs is hundreds of people with i-phones, each one outreaching (or harassing) the homeless. That would result in the use of weapons and Arson, so it is a very bad idea. Let's keep this friendly, and let's have you folks in government learn something about the homeless issue, instead of just believing the fake stuff you were taught in college. Fake studies may bring in a lot of money into a university, but they also obscure the truth, making it much more difficult to solve a problem.

The second candidate for Mayor is Todd Gloria, who represented Hillcrest when he was on the City Council. Under his tenure, real estate prices skyrocketed but so did the number of homeless. Barbara Bry has no fault in creating our huge homeless problem (40,000 if we tell the truth), but Gloria had a big hand in it. Gloria gets much of his money from the Mayor's people, Republicans, and from real estate developers. He is pro-corporate and served on the City Council during the years when San Diego became "America's Homeless City", even having an impact upon the news media, helping them tell a whole bunch of lies that made the homeless situation worse. In those days, Gloria greatly influenced David Rolland, who founded and edited San Diego CityBeat, along with Kelly Davis. They were the ONLY newspaper covering the homeless issue with any tiny bit of truth, except, of course, right here. We consider Gloria to be a Republican posing as a Democrat. In the end, though, if he were to "repent", for lack of a better word, and actually DO something about the homeless problem, he has a bit more of a command of the problem than Bry.

The third candidate for Mayor, Tasha Williamson, has no chance of getting elected, but does get to speak up on the issues. She has been homeless, and so knows twenty times more about the issue than the other candidates combined. She is the "token Black person" being permitted to run, in order to quash the notion that San Diego ought to have a Black Mayor. That might end our current unlawful Real Estate Red-Lining, which prohibits most Black people from living in certain parts of San Diego, a super-Racist city. A vote for Williamson is symbolic, and says "All you gangster politicians SUCK!" Who we really need for Mayor is a Black lesbian Moslem whose wife is a Palestinian from Israel. As the (Atheist) Pagan Bishop, my beliefs are that we need to eliminate religion and beliefs as a weapon of war, oppression, suppression, and repression of our fellow humans and the homeless.

MEETINGS:

This edition contains what went on at two different meetings of the Basic Dignity Coalition, one of them the first Thursday of August, and the other the first Thursday of September.

August 1, 2019.

Attendance was 20. There are so many things going on that it is impossible to explain it all. The 16th St. downtown storage center is still full, and there is still a waiting list to use it. People are still refusing to go to the other storage center in Sherman Heights, probably due to crime and intolerance. Survival Distribution of items was also a success, and gave out 235 blankets, among many other things. Free Legal Aid is still available from 6-7 PM Thursday nights by calling 619-354-9879.

A Journalism student from Princeton University was present, writing about the San Diego homeless situation. He claimed to be well-read on the Homeless-Owned website and also this newspaper. That is good, because most universities teach pure lies and rigged studies instead of the truth. He emphasized that work in the homeless community needs to be real volunteers, and not involving nonprofits. He is studying the effects homelessness has on couples and lovers. He mentioned the Alpha Project (Bob McElroy) and his Wheels For Change project as being a good one, and we all agree. Wheels For Change hires homeless people to clean streets and sidewalks, picking up trash.

Next, Jeeni Crisenzo spoke about no longer being with Amikas, nor necessarily endorsing their agenda. Crisenzo ran for Congress, and established Amikas as a nonprofit housing female veterans, back in a time when none of the military shelters accepted women. She also worked with former San Diego City Council Member Floyd Morrow, who developed "Tiny Houses", the program that greatly eliminated homeless problems in Tijuana.

Jeeni now claims that further research on the communities that cities have built using Tiny Homes has resulted in a lot of Domestic Violence involved in them, just for starters. She no longer supports this plan, and also says that all alternative plans were forced to never happen, because of real estate developers and their control of City Hall. She has always had a very realistic analysis.

Tiny Cabin Villages are still the answer, but they must have cooking and bathing facilities, a maximum stay of 2 years at one location, a large number of small locations must exist, residents volunteering to provide security, and an advisory board to deal with neighbors.

UNESCO, the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization toured San Diego's homeless community recently for the first time in years. On their previous visit, they determined San Diego homeless were living in worse slum poverty than any refugee camp in the world. This led to our motto of San Diego being America's Homeless City. The United Nations became involved when the San Diego County Grand Jury, years ago, found San Diego to be one of the worst places in the nation to live, and tied that to our homeless problem. Subsequent investigations by other Grand Juries over the years then started to become "rigged", where only brainwashed persons who knew nothing about the truth of the problem were permitted on the Grand Jury.

When Melanie Stuart was Chair of the Homeless Editorial Board she was on the Grand Jury which investigated homelessness, but was fired for knowing too much, and asking the wrong (or right) questions. San Diego County feared that the Grand Jury was learning too much. These things happened when Jerry Sanders was Mayor. The situation is now even worse. The San Diego news media completely ignored the United Nations reports on San Diego and its "America's Homeless City" refugee camps like Father Joe's Villages, Veterans Village, Alpha Square, and PATH Connections Housing. We sometimes refer to them as "New Auschwitz", named after one of Adolph Hitler's most famous "homeless shelters".

The Vehicle Habitation and Overnight Parking Ordinances are still being challenged in court. The new Ordinance has more than tripled cocaine and heroin use in San Diego because of the worry, anxiety, and uncertainty for those 20 thousand San Diego homeless who sleep in motor vehicles. The City and County do not even admit we have that many homeless, total, although the truth is that we have about 40,000 homeless, or just a few hundred shy of that.

September 5, 2019,

Another meeting of the Basic Dignity Coalition. 15 present. Adam pointed out that many bus stops needed by the homeless have been closed, and that bus routes have been re-routed, too. Most bus stops near dollar-stores have either been moved or eliminated, and those that remain only have half as many seats for the poor people with their crutches and walkers to sit down on. This is progress in a city that is now 40% elderly and will become 65% elderly in the next few years?

The big news is that it is reported that Cal-Fresh, the state equivalent of the Federal Food Stamp Program, can now be accessed by those with SSI benefits. Up until now, anyone who got SSI (Supplemental Security Income) was not eligible for SNAP, Cal-Fresh, EBT Food Benefits, or similar. No word yet as to whether homeless people would lose their State High-Cost Supplemental Cash Benefit if they sign up for Cal-Fresh. The State of California has a small fund that goes to those who are homeless, and thus need all the help they can get. This money is paid to the Federal Government and becomes part of Social Security or SSI deposits.

Champion of poverty and homeless law, attorney Scott Dreher, has his daughter Leilani helping the United Nations with their investigation of San Diego. She has a channel on YouTube.

Dr. Megan Welsh, of San Diego State University, has a study ongoing regarding the SEVI, Social and Economic Vulnerability Initiative, especially as it impacts the homeless who use the San Diego riverbed for a home. There are impacts regarding hygiene, water, and sanitation, and her data is being shared with the United Nations. It is now estimated that 65% of the San Diego homeless are now in canyons, riverbeds, and rural areas. Professor Welsh can generally be accessed at the Mission Valley Library, at the Fenton Parkway trolley stop.

Some of her research included the fact that homeless were being pushed away from certain resources, and that river homeless got less contact with social service providers and more contact with environmental services. Also, they had daily struggles with toilets, showers, and water. Entire days were spent just trying to get water access. There was a lot of open defecation, and very high rates of diarrhea. She wanted to see what could be done to no longer criminalize homelessness. The Homeless Editorial Board wrote a web page on the ongoing 30-year struggle to try to make being homeless unlawful, and it can be viewed at NZ9F.com/Police. Be sure to click on the link to the San Diego Police website. These policies originated with former Mayor Jerry Sanders, who was once our Chief of Police.

For a few years there has been an attempt to combine the Homeless Choir, Burrito Boys, and the Basic Dignity Coalition into a single group, and a lot of effort has gone into this. I have been the one who reports on group directions within BDC, because I have been at all but 5 or 6 of their more than 120 monthly meetings. Gay and lesbian groups have tried to make this group about dignity for homosexuals, lesbian Women's Rights groups have tried to make it all about dignity for women (only), and there were religious groups that wanted to make it all about Jesus, too. The basic theme of the group is about poverty and homelessness, and what can be done to provide better support for those victims of society which were made homeless by real estate developers.

I fail to see how trash cleanups, choirs, food giveaways, religious talks, and a lot of other things help at all. One group of concerned women wanted to bring in the Rock Church to lecture men on how to treat women. We think groups like that, although well-meaning, victimize more than they help. San Diego's biggest problem is that the homeless and poor keep getting fed a huge amount of human blood and semen in the "free" food provided, and that makes them less able to think straight, organize, politicize, and make good decisions about their own lives. It also leads directly to Alcoholism and Drug Abuse, but you already know that if you're any sort of minister. I teach Seminary, and I am the Pagan Bishop. I promised never to lie on a religious issue, so I am openly Atheist, even though most ministers keep their Atheism a secret. The latest incarnation of attempts to take over the group has actually resulted in one of the Directors getting appointed to the RTFH (Regional Task Force on the Homeless), so this could have some political benefit. I stopped writing about the RTFH years ago when it seemed like they had no benefit to the homeless situation. It also looked to me like the Homeless Committee of the San Diego City Council was doing nothing useful whatsoever, either.

Articles on Homeless History which may or may not make the next editions:

Water Man beatings and lawsuit, homeless property confiscations and lawsuit, a thousand die to build Petco Park, the Portland Loos, downtown toilet destruction, arson of homeless camps.

Article on Asperger's Syndrome and Greta Thunberg. Publisher John Kitchin had/has Asperger's, thought to be an evolutionary advancement of the human brain.

Snide Comments:

Trump used the words "a disgusting rat and rodent infested mess". Was he talking about his Administration or his toupee?

"You are whatever you settle for." Janis Joplin

New Blammo-Vend handgun vending machines help keep you safe and sell over 8 different kinds of quick-blaster pre-loaded fully-automatic weapons. Each clip contains over 125 rounds, so they are like handgun assault weapons. Each gun also comes with two extra clips. Blast 'em dead with Blammo-Vend. Coming soon to a shopping mall or trolley stop near you. (When something pisses me off I write a not-so-funny joke to call attention to it.)

Re-runs of Johnny Carson's Tonight Show, one of NBC's longest-running programs, are currently being aired on Antenna, a part of the CW Network, on channel 69.2 in San Diego. Three of his jokes this past week were about Donald Trump, 32 years ago. Johnny said, "I was driving down the street in New York, and I noticed a man collecting aluminum cans on the sidewalk. I got five dollars out of my wallet, and rolled down the car window to give it to him. Then he turned around, and I noticed it was Donald Trump." Another joke said that Jennifer Flowers, who was the Mistress of Bill Clinton when he was the Governor of Arkansas, would make a good "Mistress Substitute" for Trump. Three decades from homeless trash collector to President? All it takes is being a Captain in the Russian Mafia, right?

Always use the automatic lanes at the supermarkets and department stores, because otherwise those automatic machines get fired and end up outside on the sidewalk. Nobody has any sympathy for automatic cashier machines once they hit the sidewalk.

The local governments will now be spending over a Gazillion Dollars buying each homeless person a huge boat anchor that they can tie to their necks and jump off a pier. This will greatly reduce our homeless problem.

Broadcast History: My article "Weathergirl" was censored out, the story of the first on-air women in broadcasting in the 1950's. TV stations hired prostitutes that would broadcast the weather, plus give sex to the all-male news staff. In Milwaukee, the Jewish television station refused to hire a Weathergirl, instead hiring John Coleman to do stand-up comedy during weather forecasts. This would lead to him founding The Weather Channel and inventing the Chroma-Lock, a television device which permitted a weathercaster to stand in front of a green screen and have their image superimposed on a weather map. To this day, Chroma-Lock technology is used to superimpose images used below the faces of news anchors, such as "Beatings Continue and Local Police Baffled" or even "News Continues After These Messages". Asked why John Coleman, a professional poker player, would move to San Diego, he replied, "It's the weather, silly."

Planned articles include a treatise on Asperger's Syndrome, comments on the new Master Plan for homelessness, and comments on our new mental health plan for San Diego County. Also see the proposed articles on homeless history, one column to the left, just above Snide Comments.

We represent the world's fastest-growing ethnic group, the homeless, the only group that gets NO protection from discrimination in employment, housing, education, nor hate-crimes. We are those who suffer because the wealthy own everything. No one WANTS to be homeless nor CHOOSES to be homeless. It happens when everything you do to prevent it fails to work. Making anything illegal that cannot be prevented makes no sense. Instead, make it illegal for circumstances to force people to become homeless against their will. Once homeless, people will need to use booze or dope, just to stay sane, and many lose that fight, too, becoming mentally ill and often killing themselves. This ends the problems that society forced upon them. Self-Servatives (Con-Servatives, Con Artists that Serve themselves) cause funerals, but they don't mind, because they don't believe in God.

These are the same people who invented God, so they could control you and make money off you. They fill your head with propaganda from the day you are born. The Bar (Democrats and Republicans of the British and Italian Mafias and the Jewish Cabals) licenses attorneys and runs the court system, religious system, and news media. Welcome to Reality! They make money by expanding the population, with major holdings in both real estate and food production. They hate population reduction, and have forced women to have babies, even though herbs for both birth control and pregnancy termination have been available for thousands of years. That is also why they hate same-sex marriage, as it does not automatically produce biological children, and why they hate suicide and birth control, both of which reduce population. They also hate war, unless they can make money on it. "They" is the Middle Templar Bar of London.

The Bar of London is a franchise of the Swiss Nazi Knights Templar, which is descended from the Pharaohs of Ancient Egypt. They operate the World Bank, Freemasons, and Illuminati, as well as the Italian Mafia. Sometimes called the Pharistocracy, or Pharaoh Aristocracy, this group is responsible for there having been kings and queens, as well as the use of hypnosis to control the public via religion. They control the world's food supply, adding drugs to same in order to control and enslave the public. Many of them are not even from this planet.

A "Guild" is a secret conspiracy group that places their blood and semen in the food that everybody eats. In Hoc Signo Vinces, "In this sign you will conquer". Domini Nos Dirige, "Lord (a British Lord, not God) guide us", motto of the City of London, founded 43 AD, and Pagan until 1300 AD. The super-secret Jesuit Knights of Malta are a group that founded the Illuminati of the Rothschild-Rockefeller Family, and part of the New World Order. See the back of a dollar bill. Take some of this with a grain of salt. Below, some of the more modern agencies of these same above groups.
