In case you missed it, our Oct. 16, 2018 edition was the most important one we ever published. Key editorials on the Regional Task Force on the Homeless, San Diego as the City of Death, and Dirty Politics. As many as 30 homeless die for each one that finds housing. ## Local Election Honest

National Elections were the most fraudulent in US history – Much already proven!

NATIONAL:

This had to wait until after the election to avoid suppressing the vote.

It takes 5 years to prove that an election was rigged, and by that time the politicians who cheated may not even be in office. Some states make photocopies or photographs of all the ballots, but will not let anybody see them. That is because there are something like ten thousand ways to cheat on elections, and they get more sneaky every day.

The 2000 election, where George W. Bush beat Al Gore, resulted in more than 200 individuals going to prison for rigging that election. It took until 2005 to prove all that, and by that time Bush was on his second term, the 2004 election also eventually being proven fraudulent. John Kerry beat George W. Bush handily, but the election results were falsified. How come you never heard about this?

When these things happen, there is a Media Gag Order issued forbidding any of the News Media from talking about it. In many cases these things can even be declared a US Government Secret, to avoid people losing faith in our electoral system. Court results are also "Sealed", which is legal speak for being held in secrecy. Some folks were in the courtroom when these matters were adjudicated, and they leak information to Facebook and the Underground Press, neither of which are considered "News Media" in legal definitions.

Facebook's page "Election Scam Clearinghouse", operated by Ray Lutz, is one source which explains how corruption is used to cheat the voters in past and present elections. This time around the complaints started months ago regarding nasty tactics used to suppress voter turnout, turn voters away, interfere with counting ballots correctly, and much more. This is Old News on the Nov. 6 election, known in advance, and no one did anything to prevent any of this.

Mail-in ballots were destroyed if they voted for "the wrong candidate". This has been done for years now, and was a really big problem for the Nov. 6, 2018 election. As many as 5 million ballots were destroyed. • Many precincts which held a lot of Black, Mexican, or poor voters received ballots that were too wide, or too thick, to fit into the vote-counting machines. When those ballots were sent to the Registrar to be counted, they were set aside and never counted. • Several states removed all Black, Hispanic, and poor White voters from voter registration rolls, just before the election, causing those voters who came to vote being not registered. This resulted in issuing these voters Provisional Ballots, and those were not counted. Since the election was very recent, most of these Provisional Ballots still exist and have not been secretly destroyed yet. • Some states in the past few elections required a huge amount of identification in order to vote. Wisconsin, for example, required in the 2016 election that voters provide 3 government-issued picture identification cards. Unless you work for the government, have you got that many? I don't. A million voters were turned away who would have voted Democratic, and that by itself could have made Trump win the election. • In the past several elections, including recently, voting was set up to cause extremely long lines and long waits in lower-class neighborhoods, requiring people to spend 5 to 8 hours standing in line in order to vote. Registrars have long had very small precincts in wealthy areas, which anyone can easily walk to, plus a large number of voting machines, so voting only takes 5 minutes. In poorer neighborhoods, however, the precincts may be very huge, requiring voters to walk several miles to vote, and when they get to the polling place, there are only 2 or 3 machines, plus several thousand voters in line to use them. None of these is accidental. • Several towns in the 2016 election had small populations of voters, but cast thousands of votes for Donald Trump, way more than a 100% voter turnout.

I could go on for 30 pages more, but now you get the idea why nobody is permitted to see the ballots after they are "counted". I tell the joke that dead people can only vote in Florida, Texas, and Utah. Cheating on elections was done a little bit by both parties since the 1950's, but not as widespread as today. Mostly, today, it is the Republicans, using the procedures above, plus thousands more. If you want to know more, Facebook.Com/ElectionScamClearinghouse. You may also report incidents where people were not allowed to vote because of being Black, and things like that. Ray Lutz has done a marvelous job of documenting a lot of this, and this has led to San Diego actually getting a fair election. Time to do that in the rest of the nation, too!

The Democrats cheated on the 2016 Primary Election, nominating Hillary Clinton instead of Bernie Sanders, who was supported 2 to 1 over her. This was all proven in court, cannot be accessed on the web, and the Court ruled that under British Common Law, which governs our elections to this day, a Political Party sanctioned by the Middle Templar Bar of London (that would be the Democrats and Republicans only) may use any sort of fraud they want to in order to select any candidate they want to.

8 people were murdered in the process, but no one is sought nor will there be any prosecutions. Political Parties get to kill people who know too much or get in their way.

Why so? In 1776 it was not practical to pass several million laws just because we broke up with Great Britain. So, British Common Law is still our law in the United States, unless contradicted by the Constitution, or more recent laws replace it. Common Law is secret, and to be known only by attorneys, because it deals with how much blood is to be drawn from hospital doctors and placed into hospital food, and similar sorts of things. Not the thing we want the public to be able to read. It also covers such things as giving change to a customer, what constitutes a valid marriage, and how much semen gets added to dairy products to make them kosher. Your attorney can discuss these things with you, if you decide to go into the dairy processing business. Citizen's Arrest is a British Common Law.

My favorite video clip shows CIA Director George H. Bush (Sr.) in the Oval Office with President Reagan. Bush says, "Elections are so easy to fix that I could get my little boy, George W. (Jr.), elected President someday." Reagan smiled. True story. I was involved personally as a member of the News Media, seeing to it that George H. Bush could not be re-elected to a second term as President. It was called Iran Contra, and we in the media threatened to expose the Bush family's importation of narcotics, using CIA for cover. You're welcome. I wrote editorials in the nation's dailies. Never used my own name because of being politically too "hot" myself. If you oppose the awful things done by the Conservatives and the wealthy, you too can be homeless in San Diego.

DONALD TRUMP:

If your President is guilty of many counts of High Treason, but uses his power to cover that up, what do we do? Richard Nixon had to resign in order to avoid an Impeachment Trial in the House of Representatives over Watergate, because that would have brought out his guilt in the killing of President John F. Kennedy, Robert Kennedy, and Martin Luther King. Exactly all that Trump did would fill a book, including selling secrets to Russia in return for fixing the 2016 election. Some of this involved murder. When the truth comes out, I expect 400 Felony Indictments. He will not be Impeached, because the Senate will find him Not Guilty, but they might not be able to do that because of all the dirt the House investigation brings out. Trump and his people are now deleting as much evidence as they can, but a whole lot of folks have un-deleted copies. The USA will triumph over Traitor Trump. Source: The Underground Press Association. (Not its real name)

Solutions? Impeach Trump. Change the rules so it only takes a Simple Majority, and not a Two-Thirds Majority in the Senate. After all, Trump changed the rules in order to appoint two Supreme Court Justices who are Conservative Assholes, didn't he? Might that in itself be grounds for Impeachment? I gotta be careful, though, because Trump reads this newsletter. Nothing personal, Donald, but like you always say on re-runs of "The Apprentice", "You're Fired!" Also, my prediction that this whole situation goes nuclear has NOTHING to do with Russia. Yes, Russia was involved in your becoming unlawfully elected, plus you committed Treason in your dealings with Russian Intelligence. When this goes nuclear, Russia will not be involved. Who will? In the 1980's President Reagan decimated the old Soviet Union, and most of its nuclear weapons were sold to the highest bidder. There are warheads out there of 140 megatons with absolutely no safeguards regarding entering a passcode to detonate them. Israel has a few, for example. So does Iran. How do I get intelligence info? Geez, I run an Underground Newspaper. Most of this was news in the 1980's. I am a patriotic American trying to save my country, and that's the whole story, okay? Eric Snowden was trying to save the US, too.

We need to replace Trump with a President that has visions of the future, not hallucinations. Joe Biden? Sure, he's not a lunatic at all. Conservative as hell, but being Conservative is NOT a mental illness. Neither is being gay, lesbian, female, Black, or homeless. Trump will have to resign in order to avoid a House of Representatives Impeachment investigation that could lead to the Death Penalty.

San Diego Elections:

Notwithstanding, the San Diego elections were actually fair, and I want to congratulate Michael Vu, Registrar of Voters. Thanks also to Ray Lutz of Citizens Oversight Projects and his Election Scam Clearinghouse Facebook page. Thanks to Jeeni Crisenzo, Lisa Halverstadt, Kinslee Moran, Michael McConnell, Seth Combs, and even Jeff Light. Yes, thanks to me, too. San Diego took 12 hours longer to tabulate than any other county in the state, because they counted all the votes. Gee, what a concept!

The "Select Committee to Make it Look Like San Diego Might be Doing Something About Homelessness, even though it is just hype aimed at the elections" is now over. This committee was only supposed to last until the Primary 2018 Election, and then "If Necessary", be extended to the General Election just done. The Select Committee on Homelessness was a big fraud all along, to disguise the fact that nothing had been done on the homeless problem, nor would anything be done before the Nov. 2018 election. Shrewd plan by Myrtle Cole and Chris Ward, neither of whom cared about the homeless. The latest from Ward shows he is wising up. Great scam, though, reminiscent of Todd Gloria, who never cared about the homeless, either. He, too, is wising up, and presents a good idea (see "Other News"). There are a dozen more Red Flags on this issue, but I wrote about that long ago when the committee was formed.

The most recent thing to happen is that the "Tiny Homes" prototype that went up near the Alpha Project rubber circus tent area had to be removed, by order of the City. You see, elections are now over, so all of those promises are no longer valid. Tiny Homes are an innovation that cures the homeless problem, in many other cities, and Amikas.Org wants to bring them here. NOPE. That would take money away from the useless spending so many politicians and their pet organizations bilk the taxpayers to make money on. Solving the homeless problem in San Diego is absolutely forbidden by the Mayor and City Council. Spend lots of money instead.

Even though San Diegans lost in the Primary Elections, we won this time in November. We even fired Myrtle Cole, Gary Kreep, and Lori Zapf. How unbelievable! Bonnie DuManis lost, too! San Diego vote counting is getting more honest, and San Diego voters are getting a lot smarter than they have been.

Classism & Solutions

An essay on how wealthy people and their donations hurt the homeless situation, and what can be done about it.

The homeless problem is made worse by a number of cultural factors, one of which is rampant Classism. I refer to people in control as the Ruling Class, not the Upper Class, because both my morals and abilities are far above most of theirs. The only thing they are "Upper" in is wealth and the selfishness of privilege. I wouldn't have them give away their money, but I do believe that the Ruling Class has an obligation to make society a better and more livable place. It's the concept of Noblesse Oblige. After all, that is in their best interests. Money? You have that. Not necessary to treat other people like slaves or engage in demeaning one's employees, like Papa John of pizza fame.

Our homeless "solutions" originate in the heads of those who have never been homeless and do not understand the situation in the slightest. I have complained for something like 30 years that no one is helping solve the problem who has 5 years or more experience as a homeless person. Society does not like to admit that many of us homeless have skills above the Ruling Class. It drives home the notion that society is far more unfair than anybody admits.

I had a real estate agent in downtown San Diego tell me that the only reason people are homeless is that they are lazy. Lazy? The homeless are the hardest-working people I know, and need to work hard just to survive. Jobs? If each homeless person had a job that paid enough to afford rent, there would be nearly no homeless. At present rent prices, however, that would take wages of $25 an hour, 40 hours a week, in high-priced San Diego. Something might be workable at $20 an hour, but that is way below poverty level.

If it bothers you to have input from a homeless person, because that interferes with what you want to believe, consider me a college professor, an Applied Psychologist, who came to San Diego to study the unique "America's Homeless City" phenomenon here. The Border, the Navy, and many other factors such as Super-Conservative County Board members, Sheriff, and District Attorney make San Diego extremely unique in its homeless problem. I get tolerated instead of harassed because a lot of times I am the only one making any sense. Often I have given good advice, gotten ignored, and there were severe consequences as a result. Lately I am paid more attention to, but I am burned out as a result of so much effort for so little return. You guys are nuts. Really. You cannot learn about homelessness in a college, and what you are taught biases you from knowing the truth.

I first learned about San Diego homelessness as the result of a ministry I accepted as the Pagan Bishop. I drove a taxicab part-time for La Jolla billionaire Sol Price, founder of Price Club. It was to keep people from dying in drunk driver accidents. Leave your car at home, and you get to drink alcohol in my taxi, both to and from your concert or bar destination. Sol Price and his managers treated me just fine, not all that "inferior being, less than human" stuff that I've gotten from most rich people. Hey, I'm not trying to date your daughter! Wealthy people are out-of-touch with reality on the topic of poverty, and that causes all of their money spent on it to be wasted. Money wasted does nothing but make them less wealthy, and that serves no one.

SOLUTIONS:

Morally, I am obligated to propose solutions. On Classism, that is sort of like trying to re-write the extremely Racist, Classist, Sexist, Ageist, Pro-Slavery history of our British roots. San Diego's intellectual homeless are extremely well-hidden and Top Secret, except for myself. Many help write, edit, and publish this newspaper under condition of anonymity. There are estimated to be about 15,000 of us, and we are quite ordinary people. As a Psychologist, I look for common threads, so what do all San Diego homeless have in common, aside from a lack of housing?

We all are Religion victims; we have all exhausted the help of our friends and families; and we are poorly understood by the public, the media, the wealthy, and the government. These are the issues which must be clearly understood in order to deal with the homeless problem and solve it.

All homeless are Religion victims, but most don't know it. Many do, which makes Religion (faith) based interventions untenable. There are some homeless who are very stupid, of course, and those can be turned into superstitious "Jesus Vegetables", but how can society gain any benefit from them? Keep religion minimal, separating it entirely from anything having to do with the homeless, and you will reduce suicide considerably. A choir? The very nature of a choir is to brainwash and proselytize. Choirs put out love when they sing, provided the choir members have been fed the blood or semen of someone to receive that love. That is why they belong in churches, as opposed to spreading church music everywhere. Intellectual homeless consider religion to be extremely EVIL, and I personally have been victimized by a church choir. See Nz9F.com/Gesu.

All homeless have exhausted the help of their friends and families, either not being allowed more help, or refusing to ask for any more help. This often means that their families and friends are not very wealthy, although they may be disinherited. The largest cause of homelessness in youth is that parents cannot deal with their children being gay or lesbian, and throw them out of the house.

All homeless are poorly understood by the public, media, politicians, and wealthy folks who would help. Years of Repression via lies told in the Cox Union-Tribune, the Manchester Union-Tribune, and most of the small newspapers, as well as decades of lies on San Diego television have San Diegans completely in the dark. The series "Walking Dead" is preparation for a time when citizens will be encouraged to kill homeless merely for existing. They already believe that homeless are all sorts of things that we are not. Luck has nothing to do with being homeless, long-term. A huge percentage of us are on the Blackball lists, such as the Freemason DNE (Do Not Employ) or the Mormon DNH (Do Not House). Mostly, these lists punish someone the rest of their lives for something they didn't do. On behalf of the homeless of the United States, we demand a trillion dollars in damages.

More solutions? No problem can be solved until it is well-understood. Since fake university studies are the basis for most of our "knowledge" on the homeless, put out by people looking to make money on the problem, most of our book-learning needs to be discarded as incorrect. I would like to help straighten out the problem, but should by rights get a considerable salary for doing so. It will never happen, because certain Special Interests make a lot of money on having the problem misunderstood and never solved.

News Media News:

This section deals with things that both affect the poor and the news media at the same time.

John R. Lamb of CityBeat, in his column Spin Cycle published "Honing in on the Ballot Box", November 7 issue, that announced the political birth of homeless advocate Michael McConnell. He would make an even better choice for Mayor than Barbara Bry, of course, and an ideal 2020 election would be Bry versus McConnell. <http://sdcitybeat.com/news-and-opinion/spin-cycle/homing-in-on-the-ballot-box/>

What about Mayor Faulconer? How about US Congress? Why not have him replace Duncan Hunter, who is unlikely to be able to attend Congress from his jail cell. Faulconer For Congress, in a Special Election near you. You heard it here first. I was the person who insisted Bernie Sanders run for President, and there are internet proofs on that. •

In the same edition of CityBeat, Aaryn Belfer has one of the best editorials of 2018, in her "Backwards & In High Heels" column, "There's work to do". The quote is "it's tough to bounce back from Nazi shit." Definitely words of wisdom. I might even link these two articles if I have time, but it looks like I will have too much work to do on this edition, and too little help. One of the articles I am writing says, "You, too, can be homeless in San Diego". <http://sdcitybeat.com/news-and-opinion/backwards-in-high-heels/there%E2%80%99s-work-to-do/>

Matt Potter of the San Diego Reader tells exactly how some of the local corruption causes homelessness in his City Lights News Ticker article, Nov. 15, p.31, "The Rath of con". Phil Rath runs Civic San Diego, the group most responsible for our homeless redevelopment problem and local government corruption as well. <https://www.sandiegoreader.com/news/2018/nov/08/ticker-phil-rath-fined-again/>

San Diego CityBeat lost Jeff Terich and Barbara Zaragoza at the same time, who were the stars of the Channel 10 Mormon-ABC-Disney show "Unherd". Since there are still ads for the show, does that mean re-runs? Torrey Bailey is now listed as a "Contributor" instead of the Associate Editor. Their "Best Of" issue was great, bigger than the San Diego Reader, and a great example of a Pull-Out-And-Save issue.

Gary Warth, in a San Diego Union-Tribune article Sunday, Nov. 11, Page B-1, "No Impact After City Halts 3-Hour Limit", gives a very good analysis of the homeless storage and sidewalk cleaning issue, but fails to mention one very important thing: Homeless downtown are due to transportation problems, and nothing else. It is the only area of the City where all services, such as the San Diego County Father Joe's Daily Lunch, are all within walking distance. Homeless do not have money for the bus, and so must live downtown. The new plans of SANDAG and MTS to increase fares nearly 50% for a Senior-Disabled bus pass will certainly increase the number of downtown homeless. For the record, we hate living in downtown San Diego! It is overcrowded, noisy, stinky, dirty, full of construction debris, full of car and truck exhaust, urine and feces, and extremely overpriced. We may have been lucky to have all the inexpensive housing there torn down years ago. Can you imagine paying to live there? I can't. Free is too much money. The homeless need to be "rescued" from living downtown.

Michael Smolens in the San Diego Union-Tribune wrote "Election a mixed bag for Faulconer – and Labor, too", Sun. Nov. 11, giving a good analysis of the local effects of the recent election. My reasoning would add that some of San Diego's "Republicanized Democrats" lost. Time for Real Democrats to rule San Diego. Labor is Republican in this town, a way to help keep wages lower than they should be.

In an excellent editorial in the Tues., Nov. 13 edition of the San Diego Union-Tribune, Matthew T. Hall and his Editorial Board point out why this is not the time to establish a so-called "Navigation Center" for the homeless. The San Diego Homeless Editorial Board agrees unanimously that same would be a huge waste of tax money, so it is good to see that the conventional News Media are starting to see the big waste items that we have been trying to get rid of for years now. The latest element is that we wish to suggest that San Diego skip its annual homeless count this year, because the Regional Task Force on the Homeless is too disorganized to do a valid count. HUD does allow cities to skip a year. We could then prepare for an excellent count, 14 months from now.

"Beacon of Hope" Gala – Highlighted various social justice issues related to homelessness.

SDSU Study – Dr. Megan Welsh - She and her colleagues see that the lack of hygiene/sanitation services is a human rights issue and want to understand experiences of homeless individuals who live in the San Diego River, focusing on hygiene and their access to hygiene/sanitation services. They are conducting a research study and are looking for individuals who want to participate in interviews (Friday, 2 – 5pm, and Saturday morning at Mission Valley Library). Participants will receive either gift cards or MTS passes. 1st wave of interview will help shape the questions for future interviews. No contact number was provided to see if this is still going on.

Richard of Alpha Square says it is a great model of affordable housing for those experiencing homelessness. We consider it a prison for poor people who are also experiencing mental illness. And, it is not "housing" but rather an "institution". In the past, Alpha Project was the most benevolent operator of the Neil Good Homeless Daycare Center, and at that time had our endorsement. They also were bargained-in by the Underground Press to run PATH-Connections Housing in 2010 because the Mormon version in Skid Row, Los Angeles was such an awful mess. Over two dozen Underground Press

Editors assembled at San Diego City Hall in October of 2010 to oppose Mormon PATH being able to bilk the San Diego and US taxpayers here. Out of the fracas which resulted was born this newspaper, because I was the only person available to give San Diego same. Alpha Project lost our endorsement when it came to no longer operate PATH, years later, and has since not been humane enough with Alpha Project. However, they are in a state of change, so stay tuned for better news.

We represent the world's fastest-growing ethnic group, the homeless, the only group that gets NO protection from discrimination in employment, housing, education, nor hate-crimes. We are those who suffer because the wealthy own everything. No one WANTS to be homeless nor CHOOSES to be homeless. It happens when everything you do to prevent it fails to work. Making anything illegal that cannot be prevented makes no sense. Instead, make it illegal for circumstances to force people to become homeless against their will. Once homeless, people will need to use booze or dope, just to stay sane, and many lose that fight, too, becoming mentally ill and often killing themselves. This ends the problems that society forced upon them. Self-Servatives (Con-Servatives, Con Artists that Serve themselves) cause funerals, but they don't mind, because they don't believe in God.

These are the same people who invented God, so they could control you and make money off you. They fill your head with propaganda from the day you are born. The Bar (Democrats and Republicans of the British and Italian Mafias and the Jewish Cabals) licenses attorneys and runs the court system, religious system, and news media. Welcome to Reality! They make money by expanding the population, with major holdings in both real estate and food production. They hate population reduction, and have forced women to have babies, even though herbs for both birth control and pregnancy termination have been available for thousands of years. That is also why they hate same-sex marriage, as it does not automatically produce biological children, and why they hate suicide and birth control, both of which reduce population. They also hate war, unless they can make money on it. "They" is the Middle Templar Bar of London.

The Bar of London is a franchise of the Swiss Nazi Knights Templar, which is descended from the Pharaohs of Ancient Egypt. They operate the World Bank, Freemasons, and Illuminati, as well as the Italian Mafia. Sometimes called the Pharistocracy, or Pharaoh Aristocracy, this group is responsible for there having been kings and queens, as well as the use of hypnosis to control the public via religion. They control the world's food supply, adding drugs to same in order to control and enslave the public. Many of them are not even from this planet.
