No one WANTS to be homeless, and no one CHOOSES to be homeless. It happens when everything you do to prevent it fails to work. Making anything illegal that cannot be prevented makes no sense. Instead, make it illegal for circumstances to force people to become homeless against their will. Once homeless, people will need to use booze or dope, just to stay sane, and many lose that fight, too, becoming mentally ill and often killing themselves. This ends the problems that society forced upon them. Self-Servatives (ConServatives, Con Artists that Serve themselves) cause funerals, but they don't mind, because they don't believe in God. PAGE ONE

We represent the world's fastest-growing ethnic group, the homeless, the only group that gets NO protection from discrimination in employment, housing, education, or hate-crimes. We are those who suffer because the wealthy own everything.

Socialist - Liberal - Democrat - Republican - Fascist - Communist

Corrections:

Incorrect photo shown in our "Man of the Year" column, Bradley Manning, also a Super-Patriot, was shown as Eric Snowden. It was either for Snowden or Manning to get Man of the Year, but somehow Snowden's story and Manning's photo got published. Computer error. Some things, like predicting Alvarez to defeat Faulconer as SD Mayor, were intentionally done by people giving me lies, but this is strictly my error in selecting a file. Photo from The Guardian, upon Snowden being nominated for the Nobel Prize.

Project Homeless Connect:

Some success, some useless propaganda

Looking on the web for the place and time, I read a KPBS article, via Google. I wanted to comment that the article was Housing Commission propaganda, but was not permitted to do so. I complained to a KPBS producer. Typical transaction, typical day. The next problem I had was getting out of Mexico. I spent the night in a $2 motel (no heat, no toilet) with a huge cat that helped keep the rats from biting me. I had 35 cents for the bus, but not enough for a taxi, and the bus drivers refused to pick me up. One shouted, "Take a taxi!"

PAGE TWO Most Mexicans get this idea that all Americans are wealthy, and many bus drivers refuse us service for that reason. I finally found a driver I knew, but by now I was 2 hours behind. Once again, a typical transaction on a typical day.

A screwed-up slow border crossing, a late trolley, and an awful cup of coffee, and I'm on my way, but now 3 hours behind schedule. I am tired and hungry, too. Sweating profusely in the searing heat of a January morning in San Diego, it is lucky I am carrying lots of water, I thought. Arriving at City Hall at noon, I observed a long line, and also some Occupy protesters. Lots of suburban folks in line, talking about Santee, Alpine, and Vista, and they do not look homeless, either, but they are, from their conversations. A scam recruiter from yet another school promising jobs that do not exist "phishes" personal information from those in line. A conversation with one of the event organizers reveals that many of the projects are hidden and not obvious to find, so we need to "dig around" thoroughly. I told her that was a problem of poor organization of the Housing Commission, sponsoring the event, and a bunch of homeless folks cannot be expected to solve a "what's where" problem. She reluctantly agreed.

The wait to enter was over an hour, and I am not only hungry but having difficulty standing because of my blood sugar level. Also lots of cigarette smoke, making me dizzy, because I am severely allergic. Lots of nausea. I took an allergy pill, but my arthritis is also acting up, so I took some codeine for the pain. Standing for an hour can be awful at times. There's a pet area doing dog daycare, and giving out pet food, since pets are not allowed in the event.

I observe a "Media Check-In Station" and take a pass on that, as this is obviously a scripted, Public Relations event. I am here as a homeless person, and my being a homeless journalist just makes me the absolute go-to for the real story, as I see it. Water Man David Ross can be seen, long an activist for better conditions for the homeless. The last time I visited Homeless Connect, several years ago, they tried to hold me down and force me to get a haircut. There were many folks that I know, from covering the news of service providers that give services to the homeless. I know tons of people on both sides.

At my check-in interview, I was told that there was no more clothing for men, but that didn't matter much to me. I wanted food, and have a mild toothache, but the dental line is very long, and all the food has way too many control substances added to it. Makes me sick for months, Spiritually. My codeine for the arthritis is helping with the toothache pain. The displays have a huge emphasis on Mental Health providers and treatment, which has typically been a local bias, the thinking that homeless means mentally ill. You know better, if you have ever been homeless.

I got to speak with an Assurance Wireless (Virgin Mobile) rep about why my promised cell phone never arrived, and hopefully straightened that out. I also spoke with a leader at the San Diego Rescue Mission, and asked if the man who got his checked laptop, stereo, clothing, burial urns, and other effects stolen from their check-in area at Thanksgiving ever got compensated. No one knows. Responsible media. The Homeless Survey table is out of free Subway sandwich cards, so my being 3 hours late cost me a $10 gift certificate and my most immediate need, non-tainted food. One participant gave me an unopened granola bar, which helped. Way better than getting drugged by the "free" beef stew. As of 1 PM there were about a thousand participants, and the management thought there would probably be a count of 1500 by 2 PM. I found 3 t-shirts that I could use.

On the Exit Survey I was asked for suggestions, and I said showers, job placement as opposed to job training, computer access, non-tainted food (unopened factory containers), and better help with my dental emergency. If I had gotten a Subway food card, that would have been worth it. This is an event to make it look like our government is doing something, which it is: Our government is trying to pretend to the public that everything is okay, and that massive amounts of help exists. If they actually helped, that would cost too much.

- We are now at the end of the City's "Ten Year Plan to End Chronic Homelessness", and it has obviously been a complete failure. Panhandling works. Nonprofit Organizations just waste your money on the salaries they pay their relatives.

Mayor's "State of the City" Speech Flawed, Unrealistic

Regarding Mayor Faulconer's recent "State of the City Address", I propose that I get the rebuttal, representing the Have-Nots, and then I would also like to hear from the Democrats, especially Todd Gloria. I praise the Mayor for his optimism, but I fear that calling everything rosy will cause us to have our problems ignored, delayed, talked about without action, and the usual things that San Diego Republicans are famous for. I still remember the City promising 8 new toilets downtown, and then we LOST 9 toilets and only got one, with a 4-year wait for that one toilet! Why are the Mayor's plans not already being acted upon? Don't wait until next year, because Faulconer is not likely to be re-elected. His veto of the Minimum Wage Increase, fought for and passed by Todd Gloria and the City Council, virtually guaranteed that.

I agree with Mayor Faulconer that our crumbling streets and poor neighborhoods are a priority. I will believe his resolve when he actually does something about this other than talk, however. What has he done so far? The Convention Center expansion is a gigantic waste of money, and ALL other cities have lost huge amounts of money on their convention centers, so are we just as stupid? If the new Convention Center expansion includes use by the homeless during those hours and days it is not in other use, then I can see it.

As far as a new Chargers Stadium, private businesses should use their own capital and funding, right? Is the NFL not profitable? Why should taxpayers subsidize them? I've always wanted to see the Chargers play at Petco Park. Once again, since football is a 5-month season, that would leave 7 months for the PAGE THREE homeless to be housed in the new stadium, so I am not totally against it. The Chargers should buy their own stadium, getting funding from the various Italian Families that really own the team, such as Papa Pernicano. This is a business investment, after all.

As far as the Union-Tribune report that Employment is looking good, it is not. Unemployment is down because most people are having their Unemployment Checks run out, and thus are no longer a part of that figure. Stagflation, economic stagnation coupled with massive inflation, is what is happening. Both Unemployment and Employment are down, and most new jobs pay Minimum Wage, which is not (according to HUD) enough money to live on in San Diego.

As far as creating more good-paying jobs, excellent, but what new good-paying jobs has the Mayor created so far? The jobs we DO seem to have, at Minimum Wage, got their pay rates cut by the Mayor vetoing the Minimum Wage increase passed by the City Council. And, as far as new Start-Up Businesses, San Diego is so expensive, except for our super-cheap labor, that such a business has no chance. I was a successful Small Business owner over 40 years, and now I am homeless, so that is the future of Small Business in San Diego. The economy here is so poor that I would not even TRY to go back into business.

San Diego has $2 billion owed in Pension Fund problems and another $2 billion in needed projects that are on hold for lack of money. Is that a healthy city? People are spending more, causing more to be collected in Sales Tax, but that is only because the price of gasoline dropped to half of what it was. A new, female, police chief was a good idea, because of rampant harassment, hazing, and mistreatment of women in the San Diego Police Department, but choosing a woman affiliated with Zion Terrorism does not bode well.

As for crime being "down", my adopted uncle, former City of Milwaukee Police Chief Arreola told me that the easiest way to reduce crime is to make crimes less easy to report, because unreported crimes don't count. Making it time-consuming and difficult to report crimes is being used to "reduce" crime here. I like the Mayor's plan for a new brick-and-mortar homeless shelter, to replace our circus tents currently used, but we really need 4 or 5 of the 350-bed facilities that he proposes, to accomodate all the un-housed homeless (or at least most of us.) Also, the locations being proposed are too dangerous to live in without constant threats upon our lives. I do not even go into "The Bottoms Ghetto" because of having had my life frequently threatened there.

And, as for Managed Competition, it leads to impoverished "Clean and Safe" workers doing the cleaning downtown, instead of well-paid City Union workers. It is time to write off Managed Competition as having been a failure at anything except increasing poverty and homelessness. Time to go back to Union City Workers dependably performing the City's business while earning enough money to live on in San Diego. I propose a City Ordinance that all those performing work for the City, directly or indirectly, must be paid Union Scale, and that would eliminate a lot of homelessness and near-homelessness. France, Switzerland, Australia, and other nations have a $20 US minimum for City and Fast-Food workers, resulting in excellent economies because those people SPEND that money on dinner, new cars, hairdressers, stereos, clothing, furniture, and everything else, even pet food.

I propose a county-wide Resolution that says: "Shall those working in San Diego County be paid at least twice whatever the State of California Minimum Wage is, at any given time?" Loss of jobs to the suburbs? No. Rising Prices? The foreign cities that did this had prices go DOWN, because there suddenly became so much business. The more items you sell, the less money you need to make on each one. Would the Republican businesses increase prices anyway? Yes, but the Democrat businesses would compete with lower prices due to increased sales, and the market would level. Would the Republicans reduce jobs? Yes, but that does not work, because increased business means needing larger numbers of workers to handle the load. Would everyone need to work harder? Yes. Working hard and smart, plus being paid a PAGE FOUR great wage is what built our nation! Tony Young, Marti Emerald, and Mike Aguirre, time to run for Mayor.

News Media News:

Charlie Hebdo ("Charlie Weekly") is an underground newspaper in France. Its political cartoonists have been arrested by Israel and France, and its offices bombed by Islam. I lampoon the Mormons, Catholics, Baptists, Jews, Christians, and any other group that has cheated, stolen from, harmed, attempted to harm, brainwashed, or disrespected me. The Moslems, Shintos, Buddhists, and Pagans never have. Back in 2010 when I first started

The San Diego Homeless News, there was an attempt on my life, but I never connected it to my newspaper. I did, however, report it, to the Baja California State Police, who investigated because I am a Priest and a Journalist. I heard nothing from them until a year later, and in the meantime continued to publish. To my surprise (and horror) they said the San Diego City Cabal contracted it, including more than one Freemason and more than one City Police Officer. They would not tell me more, nor let me read the report, but it was a courtesy to a retired police detective (me) with 8 years in, from 1970-1978. As a story of wrongdoing by a police-affiliated foreign conspiracy group, Sedena (Mexican CIA) classified it as a secret. I no longer do investigations because PAGE FIVE in 1978 I refused to lie for the District Attorney as an Expert Witness, and that ended my career. See "Cops Fabricate Evidence" in this issue, if it ever gets out of Censorship Hold. Last issue I lampooned the San Diego Reader's religion column, Sheep and Goats, so the incident did not affect my editorial style. I may have had a hand in creating that column, years ago, too.

Mike Aguirre should drop his lawsuit against CityBeat because he's made his point, and because suing the alternate (and underground) press never makes any sense. If the UT were to sue me, would it collect any money or just call a lot of attention to my cause? On the other, liberal side, suing CityBeat alienates one potential voice for his cause(s). Neither is any win for anybody. If we cannot have caustic opinions about public officials (Aguirre was elected City Attorney and also ran for Mayor) then what has Free Press come down to, the Nazi States of America?

The Mafia took over as much of the broadcast media as it could in the 1920's, using money from bootlegging, prostitution, and dope sales. It is only the media that could ever put The Boys out of business, and they knew it. When television came along, gradually in the 1930's, the MOB owned all of it, from coast to coast. Nobody (except in the business) knows that San Diego is 50 times more corrupt than Tijuana, because they only get the news that the Godfather wants them to know about. Over 90% of all news it is our job to keep you from knowing it. Wouldn't you rather know about the Royal Family's pet frog?

The Ruling Class got so greedy under George W. Bush that they made Professional Self-Employment in Small Business nearly untenable, which has folks like me writing this instead. How much of this can the country take before it becomes the Soviet Union?

Enlace does get readership, but only the ad inserts, and most folks throw the regular newspaper part away as propaganda, the same as in Mexico. Such trash problems are caused when Enlace is given away free in Tijuana, that they are now required to give it away at the point where people are crossing into the US, so any trash is on the US side.

Cops Fabricate Evidence:

Secrets

Jeb ("Wine-oh") Bush, the stupidest of the 3 famous Bushes, wants to run for President.

Ugly. This would be a rigged election, where he gets 8% of the actual vote, but the count says he gets 80%. Daddy used to fix voting machines when he was CIA Director under President Reagan. This produces a Civil War between the US People and the US Government and Military. All that would have already happened if Mitt Romney had been elected. In the end, the people "win" (nobody wins a nuclear war) via military mutiny in which our own nuclear weapons are used to vaporize 60 cities. Put the US in the Obituaries, Jeb.

Currently being censored out of the conventional news media, many corporations are taking debts that were discharged by bankruptcy years ago, putting a new date on them, and listing them as "assets", continuing to try to collect. This super-inflates their apparent net worth, plus they can claim this is just a mistake. Often the debtor cannot be located, or may have passed away, and they do not want to report these things as losses. Makes the numbers of the corporation and our economy look better. In my case, General Electric - Chevron is trying to collect a very old debt, discharged in bankruptcy many years ago, and they were notified of that bankruptcy, too.

SD Reader returned to its previous stitched (stapled) binding, instead of its more recent Perfect (glued) binding on Jan. 15, probably to save money due to the economy in San Diego being so bad, and add revenues following suit. Stitched bindings are more susceptible to "other" uses such as oven mitts, shower mats, parakeet cage liners, fish wrappings, and poop receptacles, but not as useable as folded bindings, such as the Union-Tribune or Enlace. Enlace, being free, is still Number One in "other" uses.

Society has a lot of secrets. The term "Religious Secrets" refers to controlling people via placing DNA (usually blood or semen) into everybody's food. This enables a type of hypnosis called Gnosis. It is also a religious secret that ministers do not believe in God, heaven, hell, Satan, or a Life Hereafter. They know better. Those things are for you sheep to believe. Also part of the Religious Secrets is that there are secret underground conspiracy groups, called Cabals, millions of them, and they run all hospitals, governments, courts, churches, corporations, etc. The Cabals are the Conspiracy Groups that collect blood and semen from their members, and take it to the food manufacturing businesses that they own. Often these Conspiracy Groups kill police who get in the way, and even District Attorneys. This is nothing new, and has been this way for thousands of years. • The term "Military Secrets" refers to the fact that there are many other planets with intelligent life, and none of those beings considers a human intelligent, just another animal. • The term "Bar Secrets" refers to the ONE political party, a secret organization, that controls all of the other political parties in English-speaking countries plus Mexico, and the news media. It is called The Bar of London, and it licenses attorneys and operates our "Justice" System. Justice is a word meaning that the wealthy have their way, and for everybody else, too bad. It is derived from the phrase "Just This", indicating presentation of only those facts which support the Bar objectives, and the suppression of the truth and all other evidence. A very small percentage of people understand how the system really works.

Bar Secrets

To know the bigger Secrets of The Bar, you must either be a judge, top experienced criminal lawyer, or have been victimized yourself. When a judge's son rapes and kills a little girl, someone else is proven guilty. That is how our system works, or fails to work. Detectives, expert witnesses, evidence processors, the police, prosecutors, and other folks plus lots of money go up against some poor accused person, who has no expert witnesses, no private investigator, and a lawyer with no experience. That's fair, right? To make matters worse, evidence is intentionally tampered with to get a conviction. I was a Police Detective for 8 years, and so I know. Welcome to Reality. There are a small number of persons, maybe 5%, who were innocent yet convicted because of flaws within the system. Most get convicted because of intentional misconduct within the system.

Me?

I never fabricated any evidence, and that includes Expert Witness testimony that I gave in court. In fact, one day when the District Attorney (Deputy) in Milwaukee asked me to lie, I refused, ending my career. I would learn 3 years later how corrupt the Bar is, and you don't know this because it never happened to you. Nearly everyone would rather not believe this, but those convicted because of fabricated evidence have the worst time of all in society. You're sitting in jail, convicted but not guilty, wondering why this was done to you. Society tries to say that you are insane, or at least not reasoning correctly. You look around the prison, and there are many there with similar stories to yours. No one will believe any of you, because, after all, you are convicted criminals! You deserve your fate.

As far as I can determine, about 80% of the inmates in our prisons never committed any crime, or at least not the crime they were convicted of. What they probably did do is to piss off the Godfather. Those of us who spent 8 years as Police Detectives can figure it all out, however, so we do NOT make very good scapegoats. I learned not only how corrupt society is, but also that if you start your own business, and it is highly successful, it will be taken away from you. Hence, what's the point? I am asking for the loss of my millions-of-dollars business and unjust conviction that I be compensated at least three billion dollars.

The primary culprit was the Bar, and the Milwaukee Cabal known as the "Courthouse Group", with a huge amount of help from NBC. All of this was done very intentionally, so what am I expected to do to punish society? Start a nuclear war? $3 billion is too much? No, I argue that due to my age, and having spent so many years so poor, it is not enough. All this inspired my Package A and Package B college courses, and I write more in the latter. Package A is on the Religious and Bar Secrets:

http://nz9f.com/yahoo_site_admin/assets/docs/Package_A.115130053.pdf and Package B is on the Military Secrets and my case: http://nz9f.com/yahoo_site_admin/assets/docs/Package_B.115130325.pdf

Meetings:

MAPSS, the Metropolitan Association of Providers of Social Services, met Wednesday, Jan. 21, a week ahead of regular schedule because of a new Project Homeless Connect which became scheduled by another group for their regular meeting date of Jan. 28. Sorry if you went to the Jan. 28 meeting (date and time published in the Jan. 10 edition) and were inconvenienced, as the date of this meeting was not changed until 6 days in advance. 16 were present, all professionals dealing with the homeless and poor. • $300 million was cut by the new Republican Congress from programs dealing with the Homeless. • Amikas, the housing alternative for homeless female veterans and their children, will be closing Jan. 15, except its Shared Housing Program. • Melanie Michel-Stuart would like EBT cards to be usable at Community College campus cafeterias. • Rick Braatz asked for what resources are available to house sex offenders, and there are basically none except the veterans' tent. • The Housing Commission refused to deal with the 25 Cities Campaign, mostly citing privacy concerns. • The new rules on possessions on the streets have been a problem (see editorial on that). • There will be a meeting of the National Alliance to End Homelessness at the San Diego Airport Sheraton in February. I am generally NOT permitted to attend such events, nor are the other intelligent homeless, for fear we may talk PAGE SEVEN about the truth. • VI-SPDAT, the ratings procedure for deciding who needs housing the most, is judging that there are an extremely large number of folks in extreme need, but there is no housing available. • One professional referred to some of the homeless as "Higher Functioning", a term used in mental health. In truth, the homeless are probably as a whole a bit LESS mentally ill than society as a whole. If only we had more Higher Functioning professionals instead of incompetents from wealthy families. ♦♦♦♦

The Girls Think Tank (GTT) will meet again Feb. 5, 6 PM, at 330 A St., Downtown San Diego.

College Course 807, for those with a Ph.D., on Control of Others

Section 5, Reasoning ♦ Section 6, Barter - Real Rewards

5.) Reasoning works because most good behaviors actually make sense, and if you can engage their thought processes, you might explain to folks why you want certain behaviors. Getting intentional cooperation is the way to go if you can manage to do that. For example, good study habits generally result in better grades, which makes it easier to get into a more advanced school, and easier to get a job. Most people are reasonable enough to understand that cooperation is a two-way street, and in their own best interests. Lose the bullshit and rhetoric and make sense. Teach the reality of why cooperation is the easiest and best way to go.

6.) Barter, or Real Rewards is the basic system that all trade is based upon. If you pass the course, you get a certificate? Typical quid-pro-quo. If you volunteer to help with setup and cleanup all season, you will be given Spirituality Privileges at the final picnic. Barter usually involves a contract or agreement, but it is the least-used tool because it is the most expensive (the examples listed probably cost nothing). Getting a cash payment for completion of a course, program, or similar, would be a better example of real reward. So, PAGE EIGHT you complete a Work

Assignment, and get paid a donation for your personal expenses. Buying cooperation is how employment and most other things work. The Ruling Class depends upon us Professionals in the Controlling Class to keep the Slave Class dominated and under control. In return, we get good-paying jobs, Professional Privileges, and a better lifestyle. Works good, except it is expensive. Smaller rewards usually work better, and at a lower cost.

Coming Up Next: What Punishment Does, Numbers 7, 8, 9, and 10. To read ahead it MAY be possible to visit www.NZ9F.com/807 if I have this on-line yet.

Fascist Storage Warning: The Downtown Partnership with Satan will no longer be posting cleaning schedules!

The new rules for temporary theft of your belongings when left on the streets and sidewalks no longer involves advanced written signs posted with the cleaning schedule. Now, the Clean and Safe Gestapo can put a tag on your stuff giving you 3 hours to remove it, and then come back later and take it. You can pick it up at the Girls Think Tank Storage Center, next to the liquor store on 16th and K, but only during the hours that it is open. There are advantages to this plan! It makes it tougher to have things stolen, and there is no bin wait. There are disadvantages, too, however, because this continues to forcibly shove us into The Bottoms Ghetto, can only provide access during the hours the GTT facility is open, you may have needed these things the same day, 3 hours is not sufficient time, and it allows Clean and Safe to handle your stuff. Given their past track record, can the Downtown Partnership With Satan be trusted? Look at it this way: If your stuff is two blocks away from you, and you get arrested, it will probably end up just fine in storage. And, the lawyers of GTT are not interested in stealing it. Lawyers have plenty of rich clients to "steal" from.

Representatives of the homeless were not consulted, per usual, which usually results in those making the plans having no idea what they're doing. The City, Downtown Partnership, and Girls Think Tank are all in the same Cabal, which acts as if representatives of the homeless do not exist. I see the new plan as increasing the inconvenience of the homeless, plus reducing visibility. I hope they have ten or twenty thousand new bins to accomodate us. We may all need to move to Little Italy, where most of these Nazi and Fascist plans for dealing with the homeless were hatched. Tell "Papa Gambino" that God sent you. He might reply, "No I didn't." Raze the Bar! Occupy Little Italy!

We need Fluoride, right?

A Medical School textbook from the 1940's says: "The insecticide Fluoride may be an effective treatment for Mania, Aggression, and Unwanted Higher Thought Powers, when added to the drinking water at mental hospitals. It produces ambivalence, submission, cooperation, increased obedience, and makes people uncaring. Care must be taken as too much Fluoride causes deafness." PAGE NINE

Occupy has new funding source:

Occupy Oakland recently got a $1.3 million settlement from the City of Oakland, California, who unlawfully arrested them for a protest.

https://www.facebook.com/groups/306584046135167/635954019864833/?notif_t=group_activity AND <https://www.popularresistance.org/occupy-oakland-wins-1-3-million-settlement-against-oakland-police/> The newest Occupy Group is Occupy Little Italy, San Diego, on Facebook.

Vets Center Opens:

The new Downtown Library now has a Veterans Center on the third floor, Room 316. Further information, contact Rick Braatz, Mental Health Systems, Room 315, next door. 619-952-1104.

Hints and Kinks: Food.

Regarding hot coffee, McDonald's has it for about a dollar, but a Senior Coffee at Jack-In-The-Box is 75 cents including tax. Best deal on food in general is the "99 Cents Only" stores, and also the Dollar Tree stores. Downtown now has a discount food store, Grocery Outlet, on 10th and Market. Of the major food chains, Kroger's Food-4-Less is the least expensive, and there is trolley access at Euclid Trolley, Palomar Trolley, and Hazard Center Trolley. The latter also has a 24-hour Kinko's (Fed-Ex). Best deal on a buffet is Tijuana's $4.50 US Chinese buffet at 4th and Ninos Heroes. Costs a lot more if you pay in US money, and this is 3 blocks south of the Arch, and then 2 blocks west. Includes ice cream, jello squares, fresh fruits, shrimp, other seafoods, pork, chicken, beef, noodles, rice, soup, eggrolls, and way more.

Underground News History

It was about 1971 or 1972 when a group of over a hundred radical students at the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee barged into the campus McDonald's restaurant, and defecated all over their main cash register counter. No arrests. You just had to be there and "smell" the panic. I was not one of the participants, but covered same for the underground press, which in those days included the UWM Post. My comment: "What goes together better than fast-food and fresh shit?"

Permitted ET and Space News:

Time is affected by your speed of travel and the amount of gravity pulling on you. If you are travelling nearly the Speed of Light, millions of years have gone by in the rest of the universe for every second that you experience. Black Holes, in which there is no time, eventually pull everything in the universes into them. When that happens, a universe no longer exists at all. Inside a Black Hole is a Singularity Point, where an almost infinite amount of matter is compressed into a single point that takes up no space and no time whatsoever. At some critical mass the Singularity Point can hold no more, and explodes into a "Big Bang", creating a whole new universe. That is where universes come from, and that happens every day. Most universes are trillions of times larger than ours, which was created when all of the matter in our universe went into a single Black Hole. Each time a new universe is created, it is far smaller than the universe which created it, being only one Black Hole of that universe. These processes will continue until no universe is large enough to have the mass to create a "Big Bang" or Black Hole. Then, all of reality will consist of many Singularity Points, each PAGE TEN taking up no space, and time will not exist. --Written by an anonymous alien. (Editor's Note: He is a G-d, not a Gray nor Atlantean.) See alien photos

Yahweh Gabriel \(Moroni\)

[from Facebook]: Be sure to micro-chip your pet human, because humans often go stray, and there are very few shelters for them. Humans have this INSANE notion that they can care for themselves! Stray humans are called "homeless", the same word used for other stray pets.

(The ET in the photo below is a different one) Editor's note: This ET is obviously NOT a "Gray" like Yahweh Gabriel Moroni. Way too tall, eyes way too small and not slanty, and the nose and upper mouth are all wrong. This ET is a hybrid with a human, or with the Species G-d. Moroni is just over 3 feet tall. Ears on this fellow look like a G-d. They have eyes like that, too, but are seven feet tall.

Snide Comments: Is "Wing Week" the week we kill off all of those Wing-Rats, the flying rats that call themselves pigeons? I heard the Japanese call flying rodents "Karaoke", and bars barbecue them up by the plateful, "Karaoke Every Wednesday". Just like Downtown San Diego, the skies are Toilet-Free, so you gotta be careful not to get hit by flying-rat stink-wads when they get dropped, spreading 3 times the disease that ground-rats do. • Buffalo wings are really big, or buffaloes couldn't fly. • I heard a Mexican refer to the Trolley as a "Basurero transportational", Which means a "Transportational garbage dump". • Religion is society's most prevalent, and dangerous, Mental Illness. • Las Vegas reminds you that Resortists blow big wads of money at the craps tables, and go home broke on a bus. • Even the babies of terrorists need to be treated as babies. --Padre Juan Cocina, which is Dr. John Kitchin, NZ9F, working in Tijuana. • For the best in Religious Barfcasting, with loudspeakers manned by lunatics, try the Machine Gun Alley Area of San Diego, which has the best in Jesus-Nonsense, Bible-Lies, and a lot more insane ravings. Find Jesus: He's been lost for years. • Today's featured sport is Ice Wrestling, formerly called hockey. The object is to take a large object called a puck and shove it into the opponent's mouth, ramming it in with a large "hockey" stick. After Regulation Time, the Official Scoring Dentist examines all the players, and the team with the most teeth left wins. • The Jehovah's Witnesses sign said "What does the Bible teach?" Simple. Roman Empire propaganda, plus Jewish propaganda in the Old Testament. The problem with written scripture is that it fails to change when the rest of the world does, so it becomes a guide on how to live thousands of years ago. You, too, can become a Cave Man! • The difference between a Food Bank and a Sperm Bank is that with a Food Bank the jism is already dead. • What permits the homeless to survive is the avoidance of churches and nonprofit organizations, both of which try to force us into Mafia Schemes of Organized Permanent Poverty. If that is all that life is, then death is far better. Death is permanent nothing. • PAGE ELEVEN, END.
